

New children's books we love

Every month, BookTrust review dozens of new books for children and teenagers. Here are the ones they liked best in November: guaranteed to get your child reading...

These are just a few of their suggestions. For the full list have a look at their website <https://www.booktrust.org.uk/books-and-reading/our-recommendations/best-new-books/>

For ages 0-3 and up

Just One of Those Days

Author: Jill Murphy

Everyone in the Bear household is having a difficult day - even Baby Bear! Luckily, it's nothing a pair of cosy pyjamas and pizza for tea can't solve.

For ages 4-5 and up

The Little War Cat

Author: Hiba Noor Khan Illustrator: Laura Chamberlain

With stunningly emotive illustrations, this is an accessibly and inspiring story for 4-5 year olds showing how hope and kindness can still thrive during times of extreme adversity.

I Really Want to Shout!

Author: Simon Philip Illustrator: Lucia Gaggiotti

A brilliant picture book about anger with clever rhymes, a repeated refrain and rib-tickingly funny illustrations which are instantly appealing.

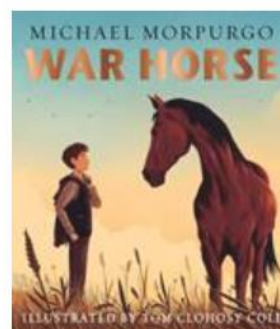

For ages 6-8 and up

The New Girl

Author: Nicola Davies Illustrator:
Cathy Fisher

A new girl joins the class, but the other children laugh and shout at her as she doesn't look like them and speaks a different language. Slowly, compassion blooms amid the origami flowers she makes for her classmates.

War Horse

Author: Michael Morpurgo Illustrator:
Tom Clohosy Cole

A new picture book version of Michael Morpurgo's classic children's novel War Horse, this shortened, illustrated version is full of emotion and drama.

For ages 9-11 and up

A Clock of Stars: The Shadow Moth

Author: Francesca Gibbons
Illustrator: Chris Riddell

When Imogen and Marie stumble on a magical world and meet a prince, they're thrown into an exciting adventure full of incredible creatures and lots of danger. Will they ever make it back home?

Voyage of the Sparrowhawk

Author: Natasha Farrant

12-year-olds Ben and Lotti each need to get to France in the aftermath of World War I; so in the middle of a dark night they set off aboard the barge Sparrowhawk.
